

Connecting to AUE Library Resources in Google Scholar

- This document outlines the basics of using Google Scholar, a great tool for searching for academic papers/journal articles and other resources. You can access Google Scholar at: <https://scholar.google.com/>
- A helpful feature of Google Scholar is that you can link it to the library's resources. When you do this, your Google Scholar search results include the full text of articles when they are available through one of the AUE library's database subscriptions.

HOW CAN I CONNECT GOOGLE SCHOLAR TO AUE LIBRARY'S RESOURCES?

Follow these steps to link Google Scholar to AUE Library's electronic collections.

1. Go to Google Scholar and select Settings under the menu:

2. Click Library links then search for "American University in the Emirates" Select American University in the Emirates – Full-Text @ AUE Library and then click Save:

The screenshot shows the Google Scholar settings page. On the left, a sidebar menu includes 'Search results', 'Languages', 'Library links' (circled in red), 'Account', and 'Browser extensions'. The main content area is titled 'Show library access links for (choose up to five libraries):'. Below this is a search input field containing 'American University in the Emirates' with a magnifying glass icon to its right. Below the search field, there is a checkbox labeled 'American University in the Emirates - Full-Text @ AUE Library' which is checked. Below the checkbox, there is a paragraph of text: 'Online access to library subscriptions is usually restricted to patrons of that library. You may need to login with your library password, use a campus computer, or configure your browser to use a library proxy. Please visit your library's website or ask a local librarian for assistance.' At the bottom right, there are two buttons: 'Save' (circled in red) and 'Cancel'. At the very bottom, there is a note: 'To retain settings, you must turn on cookies'. Blue arrows from the text above point to the search input field, the checked checkbox, and the 'Save' button.

3. In addition to PDF and HTML links (which also link to the full text), a Full-Text @ AUE Library link will now appear next to articles in your search results. Click these links to see if we have the full text in the library's collections.

The screenshot shows the Google Scholar interface with the search term 'security challenges'. The search results are filtered by 'Articles' and show approximately 4,610,000 results. The left-hand navigation bar includes filters for 'Any time' (with sub-options: Since 2024, Since 2023, Since 2020, Custom range...), 'Sort by relevance' (with sub-option: Sort by date), 'Any type' (with sub-option: Review articles), and checkboxes for 'include patents' (unchecked) and 'include citations' (checked). There is also a 'Create alert' option.

The search results list three articles:

- Security challenges for the public cloud by K Ren, C Wang, Q Wang (IEEE Internet computing, 2012). It includes a PDF link from psu.edu and a 'Full-Text @ AUE Library' link with a blue arrow pointing left.
- Infrastructure as a service security: Challenges and solutions by W Dawoud, I Takouna, C Meinel (2010 the 7th International ..., 2010). It includes a PDF link from academia.edu.
- Global food security: challenges and policies by MW Rosegrant, SA Cline (Science, 2003). It includes a PDF link from vt.edu and a 'Full-Text @ AUE Library' link with a blue arrow pointing left.

Custom date range: You can tell Google Scholar to only show you journal articles and resources for specific dates. In the left-hand bar, click “Custom range...” and two boxes will appear. Enter your preferred date restriction and hit Enter

NOTES: This set-up is browser specific, so you'll have to complete these steps on each browser or computer you use.

If you don't see these links next to an article or they don't bring you to the full text, contact the library for help. Some documents will be unavailable online, but they may be available in the library or through interlibrary loan.
